2024 Summer Preaching Series: Bible Stories to Love & Remember

What stories from the Bible do you remember learning as a kid in Sunday school? The Garden of Eden? Noah and the Flood? Joseph and his amazing technicolor Dreamcoat? We might think of these stories as Biblical children’s stories. There is no good reason for this, other than the fact that we first heard them as kids. Not all of them show up in the regular scripture rotation for weekend worship, so it might have been a while since we last considered them.

Sometimes when we return to the story at an older age, they can take on a different meaning. This is because there are subtleties and nuances to be found that we might not have picked up as a ten-year-old! Beginning on May 26th and continuing through the summer, we are going to offer a new sermon series: Bible Stories to Love & Remember.

But I'm going to need your help. What Bible stories should we focus on? What are your favorites? What are the ones that confuse you – even now? We have space to cover 12. Please let me know what you'd like to hear, so we can take a fresh look at them together. In these stories we might discover wisdom, love and grace. We'll likely see a little more clearly how God has worked in the past, and we'll discover how God connects with us today.

CROP Hunger Walk – Sunday, May 5th

No one in this world should be hungry. That's why the CROP Hunger Walk is more than just a yearly gathering or event for me. It is my chance to help families who are struggling with hunger and concerned about where they'll find their next meal. The Walk is how I take action to make sure that one more person has enough to eat.

I want to help as many people as I can in my community and around the world and would love your support. Please join me in the fight against hunger by making a donation! The steps we take - and the funds we raise - support programs that provide meals and other immediate support, as well as long-lasting solutions to hunger.

This year's Bridgeport, CT Crop Hunger Walk will take place Sunday May 5, 2024. Money raised will benefit people locally and around the globe. Your tax-deductible donation helps us as individuals make a difference. You can see me or another member of the team at coffee hour to donate. If you would like to join this year's walking team, please let me know. - Julie McClenathan

Help Needed for the Mustard Seed Thrift Shoppe! Do you have spare time on Tuesdays at 1pm? Volunteers come to the back entrance of the Shoppe to help sort, hang and tag merchandise that have been donated. It's easy to do and any of the ladies can help you figure it out. Donations of gently-used clothing, toys, shoes, book and small household products can be left in the collection box just outside the Shoppe, brought in on Tuesdays while the ladies are sorting or during business hours: Fridays

10-3 or Saturdays 10-2. Sales associates are also needed during two-hour shifts when the Shoppe is open. You can either open or close and it's easy to do. Come visit the volunteer and she'll gladly show you what needs to be done. A procedure list can be sent to you via email by contacting Susie Cuseo at thecuseos@yahoo.com or 203-268-0280, if you need more information or have questions or comments.

Heifer International is a group that partners with smallholder farmers – especially women farmers – to improve their families' food security and increase their incomes. They offer tools, training and resources that help farmers work together to build profitable, sustainable businesses with strong market linkages. They are partnership-driven in the countries where they work with farmer groups, businesses, governments and move to strengthen local ownership and improve the lives of farming families. You can help out by dropping your spare change into the collection jar that can be found on the serving table during coffee hour. At the end of the year Morning Circle will send out a check that will provide livestock and plants to those in need around the world. Please contact Susie Cuseo at thecuseos@yahoo.com or 203-268-0280 for more information or comments about how you too can help.

By Gary Thompson, Church Historian
The Mustard Seed Shoppe

"Truly I tell you, if you have faith as small as a mustard seed, you can say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there', and it will move." (Mathew 17.20)

And they had faith, the women of this congregation back then, 50 years ago. It is written in our Annual Reports of 1974:

"The Mustard Seed Thrift Shoppe opened on March 1, 1974, with Mary Lou Brigham as chairman [chairwoman]. Its purpose is to create additional funds for the church which it has done in the amount of $1,400 as of December, 1974. Inventory for the store includes donated and consignment items. Consignment items profit is split 60% to the donor and 40% to the shop....."

The success of this venture is due mainly to Mary Lou Brigham and a small group of women who staff the shop which is open every Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 10am to 4pm. Future success, however, depends on us all to contribute or consign our clothing items that we no longer have a need for and to help with the work. ...” [Cherie Wilhelm, Treasurer].

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Mustard Seed Shoppe. The support and sponsorship was given by the Women’s Fellowship as an independent enterprise. The idea of a thrift shop to raise funds in support of the church’s mortgage payments for Rexford House was, like the Strawberry Festival, the brainchild of Connie Keeling, the wife of our 46th Pastor, Rev. Robert Keeling. And like the Strawberry Festival idea, it left some in the congregation skeptical. However, it was embraced by Mary Lou Brigham, who in turn inspired a group of Women’s Fellowship ladies to embrace it as well; and so, it became a special project of that group. By the end of the first five years the Shoppe provided almost double the $1,400 of the first year. Its contribution of $2,550 to the church’s income exceeded the $2,353 provided by the Strawberry Festival that year. Its largest contribution came in 1990 in the amount of $13,895. By 2001, Women’s Fellowship noted in their Annual Report that, “Mustard Seed [was] Women’s Fellowship’s sole source of revenue.” In addition to their yearly pledge to the church budget revenue they have served many short-term needs of the church; a Pastor’s Purse, a Sunshine fund, the cleaning of the carpet in Dineson Parlor and the purchase of dividers used in the classrooms.

But income revenue was not all that they produced. In concert with the Board of Outreach, they supplied excess in-season clothing to Church World Service, starting in 1977 with 925 lbs. of cloths. Over the next three years they donated between 191 lbs. and 346 lbs. Other welfare organizations that they donated either money or excess in-season clothing to include Operation Heat and Habitat for Humanity, Community Closet at Family Services Woodfield, Bridgeport Rescue Mission, Battered Women’s and Children’s Shelter, Veteran’s Home in Bridgeport, Hosanna House, Taste and See Ministries, West Bridge, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Camp HOPE Connecticut, Center for Family Justice, and Project Warmth. They opened their doors to needy locals and to Covenant to Care. Then there was the “Midnight Run” reported in the in 1996 Annual Report, when they, “collected 16 bags of clothing and participated in [a delivery] to NYC [where] the items are distributed to the needy.” In 2020, their Annual Report noted that “they packed up ten boxes of cloths (157 lbs.) and shipped them to a [Cheyenne Sioux Indian] South Dakota Reservation.”

In 1992, the Women’s Fellowship reported that better displays and better quality items were put out, which enhanced their sales volume. This led to their largest income totaling $15,882.89, the following year. “Of that, $6,500 was pledged to the church fund [for 1994], and [they] bought new signs for the front of the building The remainder of the monies [was to have been] distributed according to the results of their January ’93 Women’s Fellowship surveys. From their previous year’s savings account, $5,250 paid for replacement of the roof over the Mustard Seed Shop and the balance of $3,939 was given to the Trustees to pay for the painting of Beardsley Hall and the Meeting House.” However, it was not long after that, in 1997, that the women felt the need to “brainstorm over the shop during a biannual soup and muffin lunch in the hope of continued health and well being to [their] main source of income.” Two years later in 1999, their Annual Report noted that a “survey was sent to the entire congregation requesting input regarding the continuing need and operation of the shop. Ideas were suggested, some new people offered to volunteer their time, and the overall consensus was to keep the shop open. Hard work and dedication of many people, men and women alike, has enabled us to reach out and touch the lives of others, donate endless car loads of clothing to shelters, work with social workers and other organizations as well as raise revenue." It is still open on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

In 2005, the Women's Fellowship was dissolved, merged into the Board of Christian Fellowship, but the Mustard Seed Shoppe remained. It was separated as a committee and created by a Charter that was accepted by its committee members; Bob Martin, Bruce Gran, Ann Wallace, Peggy Villani, and Lois Spence.

It remains still today. The inspirational leadership of Mary Lou Brigham was ably carried forward over these past 50 years by devoted and dedicated women of our congregation recorded in our annual reports; names like Elsy Van de Weerdt, Barbara Reynolds, Liz Scrofani, Lois Spence, Sheryl DiMauro, Linda Taylor, Gretchen Davison, Ann Wallace, Nancy Olofson, Ann Zeiner, Jackie Bleakney, Peggy Villani, Kate Parker-Burgard, Jan Pearson, Sue Crea, Sue Cuseo, and Joyce Zaleha Rousseau. The men involved need recognition, too; Myron Wininger, Bob Martin, Jim Davison, Bruce Gran, and Dave Spence. From 2001 to 2004 the reports recorded that from thirty to forty volunteers were available to empty the donation box, sort and tag, work the counter, run advertisements, and put on sales.

In addition to its fund-generating role, Mustard Seed provides a very valuable service to the community by giving frequent support to families and groups seeking help from our town's social service system. So much time and dedication by those in our congregation who have created and maintained this seriously important mission effort for the good of our community and elsewhere around the world where a need exists must be honored by preserving and sharing this story of a "little mustard seed" of faith. It personifies who we have been and who we continue to be as a congregation. Celebrate and give thanks.

Ellis Paul is one of those gifted singer/songwriters. Though some may refer to him as a folk singer, he is more, for lack of a better word, a singular storyteller, a musician whose words reach out from inside and yet also express the feelings, thoughts and sensibilities that most people can relate to in one way or another, regardless of age or upbringing. The exhilaration of the open road. A celebration of heroes. The hope for redemption. Descriptions of those things that are both near and dear. The sharing of love..., intimate, passionate and enduring.

“Despite his success and sense of history, [Ellis] remains an artist with his eye on the future and an interest in discovering the transformative potential of his music.”

-The New York Times

“...one of the defining voices of American songwriting.”
