April Fool!

You must be joking! Given that Easter is April Fools' day perhaps "You must be joking!" is the perfect response to the good news that Jesus Christ is risen.

Resurrection is usually treated very seriously in the church. It's a story told in whispers, under the half-light of morning. Behind the resurrection stories is the question: What does this mean? The anxiety of Mary not recognizing the gardener who returned to the garden in John's gospel; the ending of Mark, so sudden and the real fear of the women: what if this is true? It seems like the Christian faith has as its foundation a series of pretty un-believable events when seen from the perspective of what is practical and true.

But does that miss the point? Might a good belly laugh be the appropriate response not just because God has played the final trick on death, but because resurrection is not some intellectual exercise, but a way of affirming life and confidence in the world when everything else seems to say the opposite?

Easter Day may be a good time to let go of taking ourselves and our faith too seriously. Let the message be heard less through reason and argument, but rather, let it be the way we respond to death, oppression and darkness. Let's dare to trust what resurrection can do among tombs and gravestones and dead ends as we giggle ourselves away from the direction of all that binds us and embalms us. Resurrection can be an ongoing experience of affirmation rather than a one-time event.

With a joke, things are not as they first seem. This is Mary's experience staring at the gardener, asking him where the body was only for the twist to be revealed: "I'm not the gardener!" The Bible, alas, does not record any laughter at that moment but in the years of retelling you can hear it, the unexpected revelation, the April Fool. The fact that we can still laugh proves that we are prepared to believe in what is unexpected, in what defies how we normally experience the world. This is what makes us ready for resurrection, for new possibilities, for revelation. That we can still be surprised is Really Good News.

In Christ, Pastor Jenn

Fools for Christ!

Over the past few months, well years really, I have been spending a lot of time lost in the wilderness of discernment. Feeling called by God, but not really sure what or where that call is. God has this way of nudging at me and never letting me go once called. Sure I can throw lots of "stuff" in the way of the call, but it still remains – gently tugging at my sleeve like a needy child. While sitting in a Pentecostal Church with our Confirmands I had another "aha" God moment and the call is becoming clearer. I will be enrolling at the New York School of Ministry for September to attend their "Word and Sacrament" program to hopefully prepare me for ordained ministry. I feel as though I have been resurrected!

We all have these nudges from God though, not just to work in the church, but work in other places too. Theologian Frederick Buechner has said that "The place God calls you to is the place where your deep gladness and the world's deep hunger meet" and this couldn't be more true. We can't all be ordained ministers – now that would be something – but we are ALL called by God for the greater good of the Kingdom.

Where is your deep gladness? Where is the world's deep hunger? The answers to these questions are as unique as each person's fingerprints. I encourage you to think about these questions, pull yourself out from your tomb, and experience the resurrection too!

"For as in one body we have many members, and not all the members have the same function, so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually we are members one of another. We have gifts that differ according to the grace given to us: prophecy, in proportion to faith; ministry, in ministering; the teacher, in teaching; the exhorter, in exhortation; the giver, in generosity; the leader, in diligence; the compassionate, in cheerfulness.

Let love be genuine; hate what is evil, hold fast to what is good; love one another with mutual affection; outdo one another in showing honor. Do not lag in zeal, be ardent in spirit, serve the Lord. Rejoice in hope, be patient in suffering, persevere in prayer. Contribute to the needs of the saints; extend hospitality to strangers.

Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep. Live in harmony with one another; do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly; do not claim to be wiser than you are. Do not repay anyone evil for evil, but take thought for what is noble in the sight of all. If it is possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all." Romans 12:4-18 NRSV

Peace and Easter blessings to you!

Debi

Mind the Gap – Stewardship 2018

Greetings – thanks to everyone who has submitted a pledge for the 2018 MCC Stewardship campaign. We currently have 91 pledges for a total of $193,098. But there's a gap. While we have made great progress, we are still $7,000 short of our goal of $200,000, which is what was assumed in the 2018 budget. If we don't hit this goal, that means we'll have to pull more funds from our investment reserves to fund our operating costs.

If you have not submitted a pledge for 2018, please consider doing so in March. If you have already submitted a pledge, and can consider increasing your pledge to help us fill the gap – that would be appreciated. You can submit your pledge via the pledge cards available in the pews, or by notifying Melissa in the church office.

Thanks for your support – The MCC Stewardship Committee
