BEING*
Acts 17:28

Where We Have Our Being

I counted the days this morning... 56. On Monday, June 25th, our youngest (biological) son Zach is headed off to Fort Jackson Army base for 9 weeks of basic training. Cady, our eldest, went away to college at his age, but she was only a phone call and a 20-minute drive away. The emotions that I have about his departure are complicated. I'm proud that he will continue to live a life of service. I'll be excited to hear about what he'll be learning in signal ops and I will pray for him and his friends to be safe from harm.

Living in a small rural/suburban town like Monroe, my family is not alone in having our children go away for the next stage of their life. I'm already looking forward to Zack's leave days, when he'll migrate back to us and our quiet house will fill with duffel bags, laughter and dirty socks on the floor right next to the hamper. What fun to have them all home; even if it means daily trips to the grocery store and waiting my turn for the shower!

I love my kids, both the two we raised, and those who stay with us through foster care. No matter where life may take them, our children will always belong to our family; there will always be a place around the table for each one of them. Those family meals remind us that we belong to each other as we tell jokes and share memories.

It reminds me of what the Apostle Paul said, "In God, we live, move and have our being... we are His offspring." (Acts 17:28) No matter what happens in life: the good, the bad or the unimaginable; we will always have a home in God. We are never beyond God's grasp or gaze, because "we have our being in God." We are God's children and will never be abandoned or left outside of that love and care.

This comforts me as I look around the dining room table and where my children used to sit propped up on plastic booster seats. Even if what I now see are young adults on the brink of moving forward, my hope is that they will always remember where home truly is.

Blessings, Pastor Jenn

Journey to Easter Passports and Lesson Learned

I must admit I fear I failed you all miserably. I had this wonderful idea to usher us through Lent and into Easter and in my inability to clone myself into three different people, I just couldn't pull it off.

All joking aside these are things we all must think about when taking in a new endeavor. Not only the what and when, but the how. I had the idea, Passports to encourage attendance at MCC happenings. I had the when, Lent would be a great time for this. The how, well I didn't quite think that one through. For example, you were all given a Passport, you might have brought that Passport with you to church, but I was not available to give you your sticker.

All of this may seem trivial and maybe you didn't miss getting your stickers, but think about those times when you agree to do something like mow the lawn, go grocery shopping, or spend time with loved ones and then find yourself in a situation where you have over extended and can't fit it in. Did the lawn get too long? Did the refrigerator go empty? Was your loved one disappointed? How did it make you feel? I was disappointed that I was not able to fulfill my plans to have Passports full of stickers and a great celebration on April 8th.

What did I learn? Recruit some sticker people!

For some comfort, I can say this prayer to myself:

Mothering God

From the moment I was born in Your mind,
I've been
Loved. Adored. Precious. A little miracle of Life.

As Your child, You cherish me. And You would protect me with a fierce love, like a Lioness with her cub.

Inside of me, every day, there's a part that needs to know I'm treasured like this, and protected by Your fierce, tender Mother-Love.

And though I will always be You child, I am no longer young.

I walk strong on this earth. And there are those who need my care and attention, precious ones I seek to protect.

So as I engage with this world that needs my own acts of love in ways what will exhaust me, wound me, and cause me to doubt myself – keep in me the secret knowledge of my belovedness.

May it be tucked in deep, safe in my heart.

It is enough.

Peace be with you all – and look for the Passports to Easter in 2019!
Debi M-K

Church Security Updates

The safety and security of both the flock and our faith home is important. In the aftermath of the November 2017 church shooting in Sutherland Springs, Texas, Frank Pinto approached Pastor Jenn to ask if we could do a risk assessment and make improvements for the physical security of all. Frank is a retired chief of police with many years of experience in corporate security consulting. His request came on the heels of an elderly church member asking if it would be safe to come to church.

Frank and Pastor Jenn, in consultation with the Board of Trustees, organized an ad-hoc safety team of church members with special skill sets to come up with recommendations. Members of our team include:

- Frank Pinto – Retired Chief of Police of Norwalk, Corporate Security Consultant
- Rev. Jennifer Gingras – Senior Pastor, Campus Resident
- Frank Wittenauer – Chair of Trustees
- Heather Henning – RN, Monroe Health Department, trained in ALICE (Alert, Lockdown, Inform, Counter, Evacuate)
- Roy Nealon – Trustee, Small Business/Real Estate owner, interest in security
- Zachary Gingras – Trustee, Eagle Scout, Campus Resident
- Joe Gilberti – Certified Locksmith, 20 year PF Advisor
- Debi Mastroni Kenyon – Director of Faith Formation, Youth Protection trained, staff member that works closely with CE

Over the following five months, we met in person, divided tasks and proceeded to assess both the campus and community practices (in the security field, this is called a risk assessment). While in development, the plan was vetted by outside sources including Officer John McCauley (Regional SWAT team, Active Shooter trainer for region) and Officer Brooke Larson from the Monroe Police Department.

Please note that this plan does not include the education and vetting we undertake with volunteers in our Safe Church program, which is handled separately. The plan includes simple, common sense measures we can take now to improve our physical security should an active shooter threaten the worshipping community, the office staff or the youth and Sunday School programs. Some of the recommended changes require us to do things a little differently, and some of them are physical campus enhancements.

Process Changes

1. During worship on Sundays, a member of the safety team is situated at the entrance to the Meetinghouse to observe and assist the community in the event of an emergency.
2. When church is in session, there should only be one point of entry to the Meetinghouse (the main door), and multiple points to exit, the Trustee of the day locks the handicap entrance at 10am.
3. Walkie-talkie communication has been established between buildings. A charging station is in the Narthex. One unit is held by TOD/Security team member and the other by Debi/CE
4. Sunday School students exit from the Meetinghouse in an orderly fashion from the handicap exit in order to minimize travel time between buildings.
5. When Sunday school is in session, there will be only one point of entry to Rexford (the main door), and multiple points to exit.

Physical Campus Changes

1. Install a keypad lock on Rexford which will handle 6,000 individual accounts for church members, renters and community groups. This will enable us to run reports on who entered the building and at what time, which can be important when administrating rentals.
2. The door to Rexford will have a video doorbell, so that someone in the office will be able to assess whether or not to release the lock and let a visitor in the building.
3. Motion activated WIFI enabled cameras will be installed on the parsonage, the Meetinghouse, Rexford and Beardsley to monitor door and parking lot activity. This will require some additional hardware to boost the WIFI signal.

The expected cost of these simple, common sense improvements (which most communities of faith in our area already have) will be $2,750. If you (or an organization you represent) would like to financially support these measures, please note "Safety Team" on your donation. Please let any other member of our safety team know if you have any questions.

Outreach

CROP Walk: May 6th from 1:30 to 4pm Join us at the CROP walk at Seaside Park and raise funds to end hunger for our brothers and sisters locally and around the world. CROP Hunger Walks help to support the overall ministry of Church World Service, especially grassroots, hunger-fighting development efforts around the world. In addition, each local CROP Hunger Walk can choose to return up to 25 percent of the funds it raises to hunger-fighting programs in its own community.

CROP Hunger Walks help to provide food and water, as well as resources that empower people to meet their own needs. From seeds and tools, to wells and water systems, to technical training and micro-enterprise loans, the key is people working together to identify their own development priorities, their strengths and their needs something CWS has learned through some 70 years of working in partnership around the world.

How it works: To join the MCC team, please take an envelope from Angela Cross and start collecting donations from sponsors. If you cannot walk, but still want to participate, please sponsor a walker at coffee hour. Please note: All contributions are tax deductible. www.cropwalk.org

News from Refugee Resettlement!

Our new neighbors from Rwanda, the Nyirasabandi family, arrived safely on April 24th at JFK airport - definitely weary, but with lots of smiles and lots of personality. It was wonderful to see them, and to go with them to their new apartment, where they had a hot meal waiting for them. Wendy, one of the volunteers with IPRR (Interfaith Partnership for Refugee Resettlement) shared the following impressions upon meeting the Nyirasabandi's:

- Lots of personality with this crew! They were quick to smile and shared quite a few laughs with one another, with our interpreter and with us :)
- It sounds as though they are eager to learn! Twizere spoke of wanting to further his education and Daphrose said she wants to learn English. They were also very interested in Margo's microwave tutorial! I thought those were wonderful signs that this family wants to learn and acclimate.
- At the end of the evening, Daphrose was cleaning off the tablecloth in her new kitchen. Margo and I saw the sweetest little smile on her face. To me it was an indication that, although exhausted from a long trip, she was already beginning to care for her home.
- On arrival day they mostly had a chance to rest a bit, and then over the next few days, lots of appointments and forms to fill out! We are delighted that things seem to be off to a very terrific start. Thanks to so many of your help getting us to this point!

Mind the Gap – Stewardship 2018

Greetings – thanks to everyone who has submitted a pledge for the 2018 MCC Stewardship campaign. We currently have 91 pledges for a total of $193,098. But there's a gap. While we have made great progress, we are still $7,000 short of our goal of $200,000, which is what was assumed in the 2018 budget. If we don't hit this goal, that means we'll have to pull more funds from our investment reserves to fund our operating costs.

If you have not submitted a pledge for 2018, please consider doing so in March. If you have already submitted a pledge, and can consider increasing your pledge to help us fill the gap – that would be appreciated. You can submit your pledge via the pledge cards available in the pews, or by notifying Melissa in the church office. Thanks for your support

The MCC Stewardship Committee John O'Rourke (Receiver), Roy Nealon, Scott Young
